

Index of proper names and motifs

Explanatory comments have only been added when deemed absolutely necessary. Most proper names in this Index are only self-explanatory to the specialist, although they are usually elucidated by the main text. Apart from names of authors, their places of work, and papers that have not been included in the present collection, the overviews of original conference papers in the Introduction to this book has not been indexed, since the final versions appear in this book. For clarity's sake, recognised mythological motifs / mythemes have usually been accommodated in a separate entry, detached from the key word in question. Also see Author Index.
